COLLAPSE OF A CLOUD

Filled a Valley in West Virginia With Death Dealing Deluge.

MAY RIVAL THE JOHNSTOWN FLOOD

Loss of Life Expected to Run Up Into the Hundreds, While the Damage to Property Will Be Something Great.

Bluefield, W. Va., June 24. — This entire section was visited by a flood, the extent of which in all probability will equal or exceed that of Johnstown in 1889, so far as the loss of property is concerned. A heavy down-pour of rain was accompanied by a severe electric storm, which violently increased in volume and continued several hours. Many miles of the Norfolk and Western railroad track, bridges and telegraph lines are entirely destroyed and communication is entirely cut off west of Elkhorn, so that it is impossible to learn the full extent of the loss of life and property, but officials of the coal corporations located in the stricken district have sent out messengers to Elkhorn, the terminus of both telegraphic and railroad communication, and have received a report that a conservative estimate as to the loss of life will easily reach 200. The drowned are among the prominent citizens of the coal fields.

The Pocahontas coal field is located in a basin with high mountain ranges on either side. Elkhorn creek flows through the center of the basin, which ranges from one-fourth to one mile in width. From Ennis, W. Va., to Vivian yard, W. Va., a distance of 10 miles, miners' cabins, coal company companies and coke plants line this basin. Elkhorn creek being fed by numerous small streams coming from the mountain side rises very rapidly, and this water spout came so suddenly that the entire basin between the two mountain ranges was flooded and before the terror-stricken people realized what was upon them they were carried down by the flood, which swept everything in its path.

The little town of Keystone, with a population of about 2,000, seems the greatest sufferer, practically the entire town being washed away. This is the principal town in the Pocahontas coal fields and is located near its center. It was to a great extent headquarters from which the mining population purchased supplies and was also the only place in the field where whisky could be purchased. At this place there were 12 or 15 saloons, all of which were washed away. A great number of coal and coke plants throughout the Pocahontas region are reported practically destroyed, and are in some instances entirely washed away. Owing to the high water, which has flooded the region and prevented communication, anything like a correct loss of property is impossible, but from the best information obtainable the property loss will easily reach $2,000,000.

Landgraf, the home of General Manager Ord, is reported gone, but his family is said to be safe. Passenger train No. 4 of the Norfolk and Western railway reached Vivian and was unable to proceed further. The waters reached such a depth that the coaches had to be abandoned, the passengers being rescued by means of ropes strung from the windows of coaches to the tops of remaining coke ovens some distance away. Between Elkhorn and Vivian yard, a distance of 10 miles, 100 cars are said to be washed from the tracks, many of them carried down the streams.

A rough estimate places the number of bridges washed away between Bluefield and Vivian yard, a distance of 28 miles, at from 15 to 20, and from present indications it will be impossible to get trains through to Vivian and points west of there under a week or 10 days. This will render it impossible to get relief into the stricken district and with those who escaped with their lives, homeless and without food, indescribable suffering is inevitable.

On the Clinch Valley branch of the Norfolk and Western railway between this city and Norton, Va., communication is entirely severed west of Tazewell, Va. Reports come from that point of great loss of life and property throughout that entire section. In Shakerag, a negro settlement on the outskirts of Tazewell, the water stands to the depth of six or eight feet in the street and houses, all of the occupants being removed to points of safety by means of a boat.

Three miles west of Tazewell on the Higginbotham farm, the home of Paris Vandyke, a farmhouse was swept away, carrying with it Mrs. Vandyke and four children, two of the Vandyke children, John, 17, and Charles, 5, being drowned. Mrs. Vandyke, with the two remaining children, Edgar and Laura, were found in a dying condition one mile from the homestead by Mr. Vandyke, who was absent from home at the time of the cloudburst. While the rescuing party was searching for the Vandyke family they found the body of a white woman, well clad, floating down Plum creek. No one thus far has been able to identify her, and it is supposed the body washed down from some distance. A report comes from Wittin's mill, a small station between Tazewell and Bluefield, that three children of Raleigh Brush were drowned.

PITCHED BATTLE.

Strikers Storm the Rendezvous of Nonunion Workmen.

Columbia, S. C., June 24.—The Southern railway shops in this city were attacked by a mob of several score of men. No damage to property was attempted except to break through the high fence surrounding the yards. The strikers were after the nonunion workmen and made for a car in which 20 were sleeping. A man whose name is said to be Myers was on guard. He fired both barrels of his gun into the crowd, receiving himself a 32-caliber bullet in his forehead, but the skull was not penetrated. The mob fired a great many bullets into the car in which the men were sleeping. None of the nonunionists were wounded, but after they had been dragged out of the car they were pretty roughly handled. They were marched up the railroad track several miles and ordered to travel north. Later all but one of these men were brought back to the city by an expedition sent out from the shops. In the fray four strikers were wounded.

The strike leaders and the head men in the labor unions that have supported the striking machinists regard the attack as most unfortunate from the standpoint of the strikers. A number of the most influential strikers did not know, so it is said, of the contemplated attack.

Chaffee Military Governor.

Washington, June 24. — Following the order issued making Judge Taft civil governor of the Philippines, an order has been issued naming General Chaffee as military governor of the archipelago. The military has been ordered to vacate the Ayuntamiento, the large public building which was erected out of the municipal funds of Manila for government purposes. This will be occupied by the civil officers in the Philippines. The palace of Malagacan, heretofore occupied as headquarters for Generals Otis and MacArthur, also has been ordered vacated by the military authorities and will be occupied by Governor Taft. Malayacan was the headquarters of the Spanish captains general when in command in the Philippines and the natives of the island have come to regard it as the headquarters of seat of government.

Swell Wedding Canceled.

London, June 24.—Among the paid announcements in the Morning Post of London appeared the notice: "The marriage between Vivian Sartoris and Mr. Archibald Balfour will not take place." London society is mystified. Miss Sartoris, who is a granddaughter of General Ulysses S. Grant, is well known in London, and Mr. Balfour is an attorney and a cousin of Arthur Balfour, the statesman. The American contingent in London were surprised at the announcement of the engagement on April 18 last, but prepared to send wedding gifts fitting for the granddaughter of a former president of the United States. Hardly any one knows the reason for the sudden notice and many friends refuse to believe it true.

Receivers For a Railway.

Nashville, Tenn., June 24. — The Nashville railway has been placed in the hands of a receiver. The application was made by the Baltimore Trust Guarantee company, the holder of $2,000,000 of the company's bonds upon which it defaulted in the payment of interest last February. The Nashville railway is capitalized at $13,000,000, one-half of which is in bonds and the other in stock. The complainants pray for a foreclosure, and Judge Clarke of the United States district court appointed E. C. Lewis and Percy Warner receivers pending a sale by foreclosure. The receivers gave a joint bond of $30,000 and have assumed control of the property.

Missionaries Depart.

Peking, June 24.—Li Hung Chang having assured the missionaries of the good will of the governor of the province of Shansi, and because of their own desire to go to the province in safety, the party left in care of an official escort. The missionaries will go by rail to Ting Cho, by carts to Hwallu and thence by mule litters to Taiyuen-Fu. They will stop one day at Shou Yang, the scene of the former mission. From Taiyuen-Fu the China inland missionaries will visit outlying stations, burying the dead with official ceremonies.

HAY'S CRUSHING BLOW

The Secretary of State Undone by the Tragic Death of His Son.

PROSTRATED BY THE SUDDEN GRIEF.

Adelbert Fell From a Third Story Window and Was Instantly Killed. Graduate of Yale and Served as Consul at Pretoria.

New Haven, Conn., June 24.—Secretary of State John Hay arrived in New Haven from Washington in response to the dispatch announcing the sudden death of his son, Adelbert Stone Hay, who fell from a window in the third story of the New Haven House and was instantly killed.

Secretary Hay was unaccompanied. He was driven immediately to the residence of Seth Mosely, where he collapsed. His prostration was so complete that medical aid was deemed necessary and Dr. Gilbert was summoned. Miss Helen Hay, a daughter of the secretary, arrived in New Haven from Boston about the same time.

Dr. Samuel D. Gilbert, who was summoned in attendance upon Secretary Hay, said: "Mr. Hay is simply overwhelmed by the tragic death of his son and is suffering a prostration which will probably be relieved by sufficient rest."

Adelbert Stone Hay was former consul of the United States in Pretoria, South Africa, and eldest son of Secretary of State John Hay. He was a graduate of Yale, class of '98, and his death occurred on the eve of the university commencement, which brought him here, and in which, by virtue of his class office, he would have been one of the leaders.

Secretary Hay learned of the death of his son Adelbert within an hour and a half of the tragedy. He was alone in his home in Washington, as all of his family have been absent from Washington since his visit to Buffalo. Mrs. Hay, with Adelbert and her two daughters, had been spending a few days in Cleveland, and from that place went by way of Buffalo to Newburn, N. H., on the shores of Lake Sunapee, where the family had settled down for the summer with the expectation that the secretary was to join them next month.

Adelbert was born while his father was living in Cleveland, about 25 years ago. His second name is Stone, which he bears in memory of the late Amasa Stone, his maternal grandfather. He was educated in the private schools of Cleveland and prepared at St. Paul's academy in Concord, N. H., for Yale. At Yale Adelbert gave much time to athletics and thus developed his robust frame, so at 21 he stood six feet high, with chest and limbs of corresponding proportions.

An extended public career was scarcely possible for one of his years, yet in the short time that elapsed between his graduation from Yale and his death he had achieved wide reputation. Upon his return from a trip to the Philippines he was appointed consul at Pretoria to succeed Consul Marcum, who resigned. The Boers received him with suspicion, knowing of his residence in England when his father was ambassador at London. But this he dispelled and in the end the Boers learned to trust him and they showed their gratitude for many kindly offices young Hay performed for their sick and wounded comrades on the other side of the lines. On the other hand the British prisoners who filled the Boer places of detention in the early stages of the war owed many necessities and many little luxuries to the American consul. He left South Africa last November and returned to the United States by way of London. Soon after reaching Washington he tendered his resignation as consul at Pretoria. It had been for him an expensive employment. In a year he had spent his father's salary and his own.

Since his resignation Mr. Hay had entered into no regular employment, though he had devoted himself in part to assisting in the conduct of his father's personal business. However, he had been offered and had accepted the position of assistant secretary to the president, a place now held by Major Pruden, who has been made a paymaster in the United States army and is now under orders to report to the paymaster general Jan. 1, when Mr. Hay was to have succeeded him.

WITHOUT A WORD

Died the Man Who Murdered a Woman and Then Took His Own Life.

Louisville, June 24.—The death of H. S. Church was the second act of a bloody tragedy that began in Louisville Thursday with the murder of Emily Stewart, but which did not come to light until the police found the horribly mutilated body of the woman hidden in a closet and in the same house the man dying from wounds self-inflicted with pistol and razor. Several pistol shots near Twelfth and Market streets caused policemen to enter the small frame building at 1215 West Market street, occupied by H. S. Church as a grocery store and residence, the living rooms being just back of the grocery. The policemen saw through a window clouds of smoke from a pistol. They forced an entrance and found Church propped up in a chair bleeding from a big wound in his left breast with a 45-caliber Colt's revolver and from a slash across his left wrist with a razor. On the floor was an empty bottle labeled laudanum. Church gave utterance only to his death groans. He was sent to a hospital but died without making a statement. Police searched the premises and the blood-stained hem of a woman's garment protruding from the crack of a closet door caused the officers to open the door, and they saw at a glance that a woman had been murdered and her corpse thrown into the closet. There was a big wound on the right side of her face and a gingham apron was tied tightly around her neck.

A 12-year-old girl who lives near the Church grocery and had often assisted Mrs. Stuart with her household work, said that while in Mrs. Stuart's bedroom Friday morning she noticed a peculiar smell. Church entered, demanded to know what she was doing there and put her out. He said Mrs. Stuart had gone to Frankfort. Neighbors say they last saw Mrs. Stuart Thursday evening. It developed that Mrs. Stuart had saved some money by working as housekeeper for two men and had recently bought a half interest in Church's store. Mrs. Stuart, aged 50, was the widow of Robert Stuart, and had relatives in Louisville. She came to this city from Frankfort, Ky. Church conducted his grocery business all day Friday as usual, but his store was closed most of Saturday. He was 55, and came to Louisville four months ago from Frankfort, where two sisters reside. On his deathbed the police tried to extort a confession from him. He only opened wide his eyes, then closed them and died without saying a word.

Tornado in Illinois.

Lincoln, Ill., June 24.—This city was visited by a tornado, which did $100,000 damage. The storm's path was a mile and a half wide and 12 miles long. The Lincoln mattress factory was almost destroyed and great damage was done to the Illinois asylum for feeble-minded children, the Illinois Odd Fellows' orphans' home, Lincoln college, the flour mills and the county poor farm. Several stores were unroofed, a number of houses were wrecked and thousands of trees were torn up. An elevator at Middletown was destroyed and several stores damaged. At Elkhart freight cars were blown from the tracks and great damage was done to wheat corn and oats.

Four Fatalities at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, June 24.—The storm and flood which broke over Allegheny county, besides causing much damage in every part of the county, is known to have caused at least four deaths besides bringing injury to two. Charles Bittner, farmer, Spring Garden borough, was drowned in Spring Garden run. Mosco Marcos, Italian laborer, was drowned in a sewer at Center and Euclid avenues. James P. Dunn, 12, of Duquesne, was killed by a live wire on the viaduct of the Monongahela Traction company near his home. James Fleming, 81, was badly shocked by a live wire and Andrew Cole, dairyman, was shocked by lightning.

Havoc in Hoosierdom.

Indianapolis, June 24.—Central Indiana was visited by a terrific electric storm, but beyond the havoc it played with telegraph and telephone wires, little damage is reported. The storm was immediately preceded by an intensely hot day and was accompanied by a deluge of rain.

REPUBLICANS OF OHIO.

Annual Convocation to Choose a Ticket and Proclaim the Issues.

ONLY TWO CONTESTS FOR NOMINEES.

Horoscopical Portents Are That Nash, Caldwell, Sheets and Cameron Will Be Renominated Without Any Opposition.

Columbus, O., June 24.—The Republican clans of Ohio have gathered again in convention at the Columbus auditorium, where thousands assembled to witness the work of the convocation of delegates. Senator Foraker, as temporary chairman, sounded the keynote of the campaign, the district caucuses reported the choice made for the various committees, when the convention adjourned until Tuesday. It is quite probable Senator Hanna will be made permanent chairman and that as such he will deliver a speech Tuesday and preside over the deliberations of the convention incident to nominating the state ticket for the 1901 campaign.

The convention will renominate for second terms Governor George K. Nash, Lieutenant Governor John A. Caldwell, Attorney General John M. Sheets, State Treasurer J. B. Cameron and G. W. Johnson, the latter for member of the state board of public works.

The contests are limited to the nominations for judge and clerk of the supreme court, as the incumbents, Judge Thaddeus Minshall and Captain J. B. Allen, have each held their respective offices several terms.

The candidates for supreme judge include Thaddeus A. Minshall of Ross, W. B. Crew of Morgan, J. L. Price of Allen and D. A. Russell of Meigs.

Among those contesting for the supreme court clerkship are J. B. Allen of Athens, A. C. Critchfield of Wayne, Lawson E. Emerson of Belmont, W. T. McLean of Shelby, Alva B. Hall of Guernsey, Newton M. Miller of Delaware and J. C. Copeland of Paulding.

In addition to a full state ticket there is to be a legislature elected this year which will choose the successor of United States Senator J. B. Foraker. There are no holding-over members of the general assembly in Ohio. All members of both branches of the legislature are to be elected next November.

In addition to the election of a senator the next legislature will have the apportionment of the state under the last census for legislative and other state districts as well as for congressmen, and also the consideration of an important issue on "local option." The contest between the parties for control of the legislature this year will be the most animated in the history of the state, as the partisan advantages to be gained in the formation of the districts will last until the next census in 1910.

Congressman Dick and other members of the state committee have been here two days arranging for the convention. All of the Ohio Republican congressmen are here taking an active part in the convention. Congressmen Grosvenor, Skiles, Hildebrandt, Taylor, Shattuc, Beldier, Kyle, Nevlin and Van Vorhis are delegates to the convention.

At the head of the Mahoning county delegation is Asa W. Jones, who was lieutenant governor during the Bushnell administration and who is prominently mentioned for the next nomination for governor. Another candidate for the gubernatorial nomination two years hence is Harry M. Daugherty of Fayette, who is at the head of a delegation whose seats are contested. Owing to factional interests the contest over the Daugherty and the Marchand delegations from Fayette county is causing much agitation.

Quite a number of ex-congressmen are in the list. Among the delegates are ex-Governor Bushnell and ex-Governor Charles Foster. Ex-Speaker J. Warren Keifer and ex-Congressman Weaver of Springfield are in the delegation of which ex-Governor Bushnell is chairman. It is understood that General Grosvenor will be chairman of the committee on resolutions and that this committee will be composed of congressmen and ex-congressmen, and that the platform will deal almost entirely with national issues.

German Cruiser Launched.

Kiel, June 24.—Princess Henry of Prussia christened a cruiser which was launched here. The vessel was named Prinz Adelbert, after the first Prussian admiral. Prince Henry, in a speech, referred to the prophetic words of Prince Adelbert, when the first foundations of the German navy were laid, that no prosperity was possible without a trans-oceanic policy, which in turn was impossible without a fleet.

CENSUS returns show that in 1900 there were 5,700,000 farms under cultivation as compared with 4,564,691 in 1890. This may be deemed a remarkable increase, remarks an exchange, showing that the growth of our industries is symmetrical, the farmers keeping pace in the march forward. The single discouraging feature of the situation is the increase of tenant farming. But that's a result of the Republican system of legislation.

THE PRESIDENT'S IMPERIAL POWER.

"By its declared policy of granting imperial powers to the President pending the convening of the Fifty-seventh Congress, the Cabinet, composed of the leading representatives of the Republican party, has startlingly testified to that party's complete and unconditional surrender to the glamour of empire," says the Philadelphia Record.

"The President of the United States has been clothed in authority which constitutes a menace to free institutions and to the continued maintenance of American principles," continues the Record. "No remissive American can believe for a moment that the American patriots who signed the Declaration of Independence and who laid the foundations of this Government would sanction the military ruling of a far-distant dependency, the President acting with more than the powers of a King, inequalities of citizenship created, millions of weaker people subjected by force to taxation without consent or voice.

"It was against these very sins that the early Americans rose in rebellion and won the freedom of the then British colonies. It was these very sins which they forbade to their descendants after having founded a free republic which, they fondly dreamed, would remain forever free and consistently illustrative of the blessings of freedom. It is these very sins to which the McKinley administration has now surrendered the Government, a surrender which threatens the ultimate destruction of the magnificent fabric of free government built by the early Americans. The late action of the Cabinet would be denounced by Thomas Jefferson if the spectacle could be witnessed by that indomitable American Democrat and lover of liberty.

"The one hope in the present most serious crisis in American history—and always the hope and mainstay of the right when nations and governments are to be withheld from the doing of wrong—rests in the people of this country. If they have not lost the American spirit they will in the next National elections reclaim the government from the hands of the imperialists. They will do this as constituting the performance of a sacred duty. It will mean to them the saving of the republic. For they know that this government cannot live half republic and half empire—the empire is already established in Washington, Porto Rico and in the Philippines."

Ice cream soda at Chenoweth's.

The Official Board of the Christian Church will meet to-night in the chapel at the close of the Bible class.

The C. and O.'s through trains from the East Sunday had not passed here last evening. They were delayed by a big washout near Hinton, W. Va. The company had 700 hands at work Sunday, repairing the track at that point. That section was visited by a destructive storm Saturday night.

Mrs. Maude Hampton, charged with stabbing and wounding her husband, E. H. Hampton, failed to appear in Squire Miller's court Saturday, and her bail bond of $100 was forfeited. A man named Ross is on her bond. Both have disappeared. Hampton was not seriously wounded and is able to be out. The trouble occurred a week ago Saturday night.

The Court of Appeals Saturday denied Caleb Power's petition for a rehearing and modification of former opinion which gave him a new trial, except that the Court says on next trial witness H. Keller may testify as to whether or not D. H. Sinclair told him that he (Sinclair) had been promised a good office to testify in the Goebel murder cases. On first trial Sinclair said he had not been so promised and defense were not permitted to prove or attempt to prove by Keller that Sinclair had said an office had been promised him.

MR. JOHN MANION.

An Old and Respected Citizen of the County Passed Away Saturday at His Home Near Sardis.

Mr. John Manion, an old and respected citizen of this county, who resided in the Sardis neighborhood, died about noon Saturday. He had been a sufferer from kidney trouble for several years, but the disease did not assume a serious phase until early last week.

His wife and three children survive him. He was a brother to Mrs. Martin Comer, of Fourth street, this city, and leaves two other sisters, Mrs. Ort, of Ironton, O., and Mrs. Flarity, of Mt. Sterling. He was born in Ireland, but came to this county many years ago. The funeral took place this morning and the remains were then laid to rest in the cemetery at Washington.

The receipts from the handkerchief hazard given by ladies of the Christian Church Friday and Saturday amounted to about $100.

A GOOD WOMAN GONE.

After Months of Suffering Miss Mary Hudnut Passed Into Rest Saturday Night—Funeral Tuesday Morning.

Miss Mary Hudnut died Saturday night at 9:30 at her home on West Front street. She had been an invalid for months, yet heroically and without a murmur bore the long weeks of suffering with the resignation and fortitude of the true Christian that she was. While she had suffered greatly during her long illness, yet her closing moments were peaceful ones. She was conscious almost to the end. "And this is death! Lord Jesus, receive my spirit!" were her last words.

Miss Hudnut was born at Millersburg and was a daughter of the late Elias and Julia Hudnut. Most of her life was spent in this city, where she enjoyed the love and respect of all who were fortunate enough to be numbered among her acquaintances. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Pinckard of Cincinnati, and a nephew living in Chicago.

Miss Hudnut had been a faithful member of the Christian Church for many years, and the funeral will take place Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the church, Elder Howard T. Cree officiating. Burial in the Maysville Cemetery.

ELLIS BOUND OVER.

Aberdeen Citizen in Trouble With Uncle Sam Over a Pension Affidavit.

(Portsmouth Times)

Chas. C. Ellis, the Aberdeen man accused of affixing a notarial seal to a pension affidavit contrary to law, had a hearing before Squire Hall Friday. He was bound over to the United States grand jury under $500 bond. He gave the bond. District Attorney Wm. E. Bundy was present to prosecute and Attorney N. W. Evans defended Ellis. The testimony developed that Ellis is a pension attorney, aged forty-three. He drew up a pension application for Ellen Taylor, a negro widow, and affixed a notarial seal belonging to his father and signed his father's name to it in acknowledgement. His father is a paralytic, cannot move a muscle and did not authorize his son's acts. A deposition which has been secured from Ellis by a special pension examiner in which he admitted the allegations of the Government, was introduced in evidence.

Burnside, passed up Saturday for Kanawha with a big tow of twenty empties, Taylor's fireclay barge, the K. and O. pump boat, a lot of trading boats, two fuelers and the company's freightboat, Box, which was loaded with valuable stores. She had as guests the following Cincinnati people: Miss Dana Burnside, Miss Thomas, Mrs. Charles Patzold, Mrs. Binley and son, Don Gillham Burnside, Mrs. E. W. Burnet, daughter of Captain S. F. Dana, and her children, Masters Dana and Clark, and little Miss Alice.

THE LATE L. H. MANNEN.

Remains Laid to Rest Saturday at Galena, Kansas. With the Honors of the Masonic Order.

The funeral of the late Leslie H. Mannen, whose death was mentioned in Friday's issue, took place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at his home in Galena, Kansas, under the auspices of the Masonic order, of which he was a member. Burial at Galena. The Galena Times, in its notice of his death, says: "On coming here he engaged in the livery business and owned the barn on Seventh street at the time of his death, as well as his residence property, corner Sixth and Galena avenue. He ran for County Commissioner in 1898, as the Democratic nominee, being defeated by Had Peters. Mr. Mannen was an uncompromising Democrat, of the genuine Kentucky kind, and was active in the local ranks until more recent years. He was a faithful friend, a genial associate, a man of honor, integrity and honesty. He was plain and unassuming, a man of strong convictions, a close discerner of right and wrong—quick to commend the one and condemn the other. His friends were numbered by the score and they will deeply feel the loss which his death occasions. As has been the case with countless others, his worst enemy was himself. Mr. Mannen was proud, but he was modest. When the writer sought material for a biography of him for publication in The Times, when he was a candidate for Commissioner, he said, 'There isn't much to be said about my life,' and then he added 'there isn't much to be ashamed of, either.'"

CAN YOU WRITE A GOOD ADVERTISEMENT? Most people think they could if they were given an opportunity. We have frequently been complimented on the get-up of our advertisements and think we do, occasionally, produce some that are fairly attractive. Our ad man says there is room for improvement, however, and, acting on his suggestion, we propose to give all who care to compete a chance to try their hand. We have an especially fine line of Hammocks and a substantial stock of Ice Cream Freezers, for which there ought to be a great demand these hot days. The ad we had prepared for the above space consisted of less than 150 words. No doubt you could, within that limit, compose something that would prove more effective than the one we have constructed. We propose to offer three prizes for the best original advertisement sent us not later than July 1st. Put in a little enthusiasm and try as often as you please, but no one eligible for more than a single prize. Enclose each ad in envelope and mail to us or leave at our store, addressed as below. Keep well within the limit. Names of the prize-winners, together with their production, will be published in our space as soon after above date as possible, to be followed by the original.

THE PRIZES will be as follows: First, the Finest Hammock in our stock, value, $3.25; second, a Fine Jointed Fishing Rod and Tackle, value, $3; third, a Lightning Freezer, value, $2.

Central Presbyterian Church Crowded at the Service Last Evening.

Notwithstanding the sweltering heat, a very large crowd thronged the Central Presbyterian Church last night, the occasion being the Children's Day service. The altar, pulpit platform and railing in front of the choir recess were decorated with evergreens and cut flowers, the scene presented being a very pretty one.

The members of the Sunday school occupied front seats in the central sections. An interesting and instructive program of songs and recitations was rendered. A collection was taken at the close for missions.

CINCINNATI TOBACCO MARKET.

Offerings Principally of Medium and Good to Fine Grades—Prices Remain Firm. Receipts Increasing.

Offerings of new.....	1,292	1,410
Total offerings.....	1,293	1,410

Per cent. rejections.....	13	21
Receipts.....	1,461	2,082

Only one hhd. of old tobacco was offered, the Cincinnati-Miami House having that distinction on Wednesday. It sold for $4. against an average price of $6.77 for 18 hhd. last week.

The 1,293 hhd. new offered averaged $7.04 per 100 pounds, as against $7.58 for the 1,064 hhd. for the previous week, and $8.41 for the 1,410 hhd. for the corresponding week of last year. The weekly circular of the warehouse interests: "Firmness and vigor were the chief characteristics of the burley market last week. The offerings were principally of medium and good to fine tobacco, and all were in first-class condition. There was no fancy tobacco offered, but prices ruled high on all sorts that did make their appearance. Anything with color predominated, and increased in activity as the week went along. The closing sale on Friday was the most enthusiastic of the week, and high prices were realized on only medium tobaccos.

Trashes and lugs were higher in the fore part of the week, but eased off a little toward the end, closing firm at last week's prices. Tips were in good demand, as was all medium to good tobacco, and high prices on these grades were realized. The better grades were sparingly offered, but sold well in all instances. Most all the tobacco was bid off by the manufacturers, very little speculative buying being done.

It will be well for those offering lugs and trashes that they be in dry condition, since the buyers demand them so. Anything that suggests softness is sure to fall off a bid or two. What is said of lugs and trashes also holds good of all other kinds of leaf.

The total offerings were larger than previous week, though still very light, and will continue to increase each week. The receipts are becoming heavier and the spell of hot, dry weather which we have been enjoying has assisted the farmers and dealers in drying their tobacco and getting it in first-class condition.
